A Rebel's Desire Some secrets are hard to keep... Jake Duncan promised Heather MacDonald he'd keep her secret. He'd help her train to be a warrior and all she had to do was give him a kiss. He didn't promise that she wouldn't feel the stirrings of desire for this former soldier. For Heather, a woman determined to become a warrior, Jake's promise means the difference between life and death. Wounded at war, then the target of a malicious healer, Jake Duncan, brother of the Highland Laird, has decided he has to prove himself, over and over again. He never thought that part of his journey would involve falling for the woman from the Lowlands who wasn't as demure or as shy as he originally thought, especially not when she was wielding a dirk. * * * Book Three of the Highland Heartbeats Series! An Outcast's Wish Some memories are best left forgotten... Maccay Douglas finds a trespasser on Duncan lands. Except the trespasser isn't some lad up to mischief. It's a woman in boy's clothing. A woman with a bruise on her head and no name, and hunting skills. She claims she doesn't know who she is. That doesn't stop him from falling in love. Except this red-haired beauty has an explosive secret that is bound to bring war to the Highlands.

Like battles, some redemption cannot be won... In early 1746, Alasdair Macintyre is headed home after the rout at Culloden on Drum Mossie Moor, in sight of Inverness. The battle has been lost and scar on his face that makes him so ferocious-looking that even children run from him in terror. He learns his father has betrothed him to a local lass—a nearly blind woman—in exchange for a sizeable dowry and a chunk of land. The woman brings with her a companion that hates him immediately. He has no interest in having a chain around his neck, not even in the form of a woman he once knew as a girl—a gangly, twig of a girl. But Beitris is no longer the girl Alasdair Macintyre remembers. She's blossomed into a stunning woman, though one that is terrified of the scarred Highlander she's betrothed to.

Arya Furlough of Dunrobin has been betrothed to Laird Jared Stewart against her wishes. With her faithful maid and companion she begrudgingly embarks on a voyage to new lands to marry the laird her father has determined will prove a fruitful alliance with her their clan. Alas, the ship she is on does not weather a storm well, leaving her cast upon the sea. Laird Duncan McAbee of Duffus is mourning his father on the shore when he notices a body bobbing among the waves. Little does he know, the body he pulls forth is a raven-haired spitfire of a lass with a steel will of determination not to marry her betrothed. He is caught unawares when she wields a poker and even further caught offguard when she manages to broach his defenses and capture her heart. How is he supposed to recover when she chooses to leave him for Laird Jared Stewart?

Dougal Craig might have been amused regarding his reputation as a highwayman/ruffian/bandit, when actually, he's nothing of the sort. He just likes his privacy and it doesn't take much for rumors to start. He doesn't bother to deny them. More the better so people leave him alone. He's anti-social but not unfriendly, so he typically shrugs off the opinions of others. He lives quietly out on the moors, taking care of any trouble that comes his way with his guns or his swords. Tyra Fletcher's running from a secret. But she didn't plan on running into a musket wielded by Dougal Craig. Now she's injured and at his mercy. Dougal's got secrets of his own. His are far more deadly. Who's protecting who now as this English refugee runs into the wrong end of Dougal's weapon?

When Gabrielle, the last of her royal line, comes to Scotland to meet the stranger she is betrothed to, she discovers that the powerful secret she possesses could plunge the entire highland Scottish kingdom

One moment in time was all it took... She shouldn't be here... She can't even recall how she got here. Except for the dream. Mya Boyle remembers the dream. She knows it's somehow connected to her past, her present and the future. Mya woke one morning in a field, a stag grazing close by as if it didn't even notice her. She lay bare, like a babe from the womb, except for a wool blanket wrapped around her tightly. A grown woman with no memory, no family, no money, nothing. Kayden McGregor found her while hunting. He was after the stag and nearly shot her with his arrow instead. Unable to leave her to the wolves of his clan, he took her to his home. He resents her. She can't bare to look at him. Or stop herself from staring when he doesn't notice. Trapped, and yet somehow destined to be together. Remember enough of the past... You may be able to control your future.

Anna Cooper is a rock star in the making. She's at a gig in Edinburgh, Scotland—only the most important, make or break gig—when she falls through a—what? She's not even sure what she fell through, except she landed right in the midst of what she thought was a roleplaying group. Except they're not. They're the real deal. Scottish Highlanders. Ones with swords. Ones who don't believe in personal hygiene. And now? She's missing the gig. She's at the mercy of a hottie called Kaden. A hottie she'd have wished to meet in her century, not in the seventeenth century for Pete's sake. And she's being accused of being a witch?

In Stations of the Sun and The Triumph of the Moon Ronald Hutton established himself as a leading authority on the history of Paganism. His wealth of unusual knowledge, complemented by a deep and sympathetic understanding of past and present beliefs that are often dismissed as strange or marginal, and an ability to write lucidly and wittily, gives his work a unique flavour. The essays which make up Witches, Druids and King Arthur cover elegantly and entertainingly a wide range of beliefs, myths and practices.

Dangerous Highlander is the first novel of the Dark Sword—a breathtaking historical and paranormal romance series from Donna Grant. The bold and passionate Lucan MacLeod—one of three brothers cursed by dark magic for eternity—is driven by desire for the one woman he dare not let himself possess... He is magnificently strong—and dangerously seductive. One of the fiercest of his clan, Lucan MacLeod is a legend among warriors, inspiring fear in man and woman alike. For three hundred years, he has locked himself away from the world, hiding the vengeful god imprisoned in his soul. But then, a young lass caught in a raging storm awakens his deepest impulses...and darkest desires. Cara doesn't believe the rumors about the MacLeod castle—until the majestic Highland warrior appears like a fiery vision in the storm, pulling her into his powerful arms, and into his world of magic and Druids. An epic war between good and evil is brewing. And Lucan must battle his all-consuming attraction for Cara—or surrender to the flames of a reckless, impossible love
